Time series information has been included to provide a historical perspective on many of the selected indicators. Future issues may be expanded to include further historical data in response to expressed user needs. This product is under continuous review and any suggestions for enhancement will be welcomed.

More detailed information on each series, including explanatory and technical notes, can be obtained from other Australian Bureau of Statistics publications or alternative data sources. To assist those seeking further information a source publication for each of the series has been documented in the statistical summary.

This issue includes a special article entitled Grape Growing and Wine Production in South Australia, 1994-95. Future issues will contain further articles on statistical topics which concentrate on longer term trends or other issues pertinent to the South Australian economy.

- The steep fall in the number of dwelling units commenced in South Australia over the 9 months to June 1995 was halted during the September quarter 1995. Although the 1,767 commenced is unchanged from June quarter it is the equal lowest since 1981.

- At 30 June 1995 the estimated resident population of South Australia was 1,473,966. The increase for the year ended 30 June 1995 was 4,595 persons (0.31%) while the national increase was 1.21%. The continuing low growth rate for South Australia is attributable to large net outflow in interstate migration of 1,876 persons.

Wages, salaries and supplements increased by 0.7% in the June quarter and had risen by 2.3% over the twelve month period, well below the national increase of 7.7%.

Increases in gross operating surplus exceeded the corresponding national growth rates from the June quarter 1994 following a 2.0% rise in the June quarter 1995. The June quarter 1995 estimate was 7.3% higher than for the same period last year.

Forward Outlook

Composite Leading Indicator

The Composite Leading Indicator (CLI) is a single time series produced by aggregating eight individual economic indicators, and has been developed by the ABS as an experimental series to supplement existing forms of economic analysis and modelling.

The CLI summarises the early signals contained in a selection of economic indicators and is designed to help in the detection of turning points between successive expansions and contractions of economic activity but does not attempt to forecast the level of economic activity.

The main features of the Australian September quarter 1995 data were:

- a fall of 0.36%, the fourth consecutive fall since the September quarter 1994 peak.. However the rate of fall eased from 0.65% in the June quarter.
- the turning point in the CLI is coincident with the last turning point in the reference series; deviations in the trend growth rate of GDP(A) from its historical long-term trend..

The quarterly data are released in more detail in the Australian Economic Indicators (1350.0). The CLI was the topic of the Focus article in the September 1993 edition of South Australian Economic Indicators (1307.4).

Australian Business Expectations

Surveys of business expectations have been a feature of the economic intelligence available to decision makers for a number of years. The main output from these surveys has been a qualitative indicator which provides the net proportion of businesses predicting a rise or fall in future business conditions. Further details about these surveys which are conducted quarterly by the ABS are available in Australian Business Expectations (1250.0), the September 1994 edition of Australian Economic Indicators (1350.0) and the May 1994 edition of South Australian Economic Indicators (1307.4).

FOCUS

Grape Growing and Wine Production in South Australia 1994-95

During 1994-95, South Australia produced 43% of Australian grapes and 51% of Australian beverage wine. These proportions are well above the South Australian contribution to the Australian population total (8%) and many economic indicators (see Statistical Summary on page 16).

VITICULTURE

South Australia had the largest total area of vines in Australia with 32,358 hectares. Australia had a record 72,707 hectares of grape vines, which included 5,975 hectares of vines planted or grafted during 1994-95. Nearly 52% of the area of these newly planted vines was in South Australia.

Despite grape production falling by 7%, South Australia became the largest producer of grapes, followed by Victoria. Australia produced 575,001 tonnes of grapes intended for winemaking, 147,406 tonnes for drying and 44,515 tonnes for table and other uses. Most (97%) of the South Australian grape production were intended for winemaking. South Australia produced 55% of the total grapes intended for winemaking.

South Australia produced 70% of Australian red wine grapes mostly in the South Eastern, North Murray and Central Districts.

WINE PRODUCTION

The ABS collects statistics on grapes crushed, wine production, spirit production and usage from winemaking enterprises which crush more than 400 tonnes of grapes. This accounts for approximately 97% of all grape crushings.

Grapes Crushed

The South Australian crush decreased by 18%, from 384,666 tonnes in 1993-94 to 313,771 tonnes in 1994-95. Of these grapes, 62% were white. South Australia crushed 63% of all red grapes crushed in Australia and 46% of white grapes.

Beverage Wine

The production of beverage wine in South Australia was 232.3 million litres, a decrease of 27.4 million litres (11%) from the 1993-94 record of 259.7 million litres. Fortified wine production decreased by 5.4 million litres (27%) to 14.8 million litres, and production of unfortified wine decreased by 22.0 million litres (9%) to 217.5 million litres.

BEVERAGE WINE PRODUCTION States

Despite the drop in production South Australia remained the major beverage wine producer of the States and Territories with 51% of the Australian total. The production of beverage wine in Australia decreased by 14% from a record volume of 530.5 million litres in 1993-94 to 458.4 million litres. The fall in production was greatly influenced by a poor grape harvest resulting in a shortage of grapes for winemakers.

All South Australian wine producing regions except the Riverland reported decreases in the production of beverage wine for 1994-95. The following table shows the regional production for 1994-95 and the percentage change on 1993-94.

Distillation Wine and Spirits

The production of distillation wine in South Australia was 32.7 million litres, a decrease of 21% or 8.8 million litres from the previous year. This compares with a decrease of 22% for the total Australian distillation wine production, from 56.8 million litres in 1993-94 to 44.4 million litres in 1994-95.

Brandy production for Australia in 1994-95 fell by 29% to 1.0 million litres of alcohol, the lowest since 1988-89. Grape spirit production fell by 21% to 4.9 million litres of alcohol. South Australia was the main producer of both these products with 90% (0.9 million litres of alcohol) of all brandy made and over two-thirds of all grape spirit made.

WINE STOCKS

Data relating to the level of stocks of wine and brandy are separately collected from winemaking enterprises who have domestic sales of wine greater than 250,000 litres in the past financial year. Data are collected at the Australian level only.

Total beverage wine stocks held by winemakers in Australia at 30 June 1995 were 642.5 million litres, a decrease of 2% when compared with the record stocks at 30 June 1994.

DOMESTIC SALES

Data relating to domestic sales of Australian produced wine are collected from winemaking enterprises who have domestic sales greater than 250,000 litres in the past financial year. Data are collected at the Australian level only.

In 1994-95, reported sales were 313.4 million litres of Australian produced wine, a decrease of 2% from the previous year, and 1,188 litres of alcohol in Australian produced brandy.

EXPORTS

South Australia exported 82.8 million litres of wine, a fall of 5% from the record 87.4 million litres recorded for 1993-94. However, the value of wine exported increased. It reached a record high of $250.5 million in 1994-95, up 5% from 1993-94.

WINE EXPORTS

South Australia and Australia

Australian wine exports fell 9% in volume to 113.6 million litres and rose 5% in value to $385.4 million. South Australia continues to be the predominant source of Australian wine exports representing 73% of the total volume for 1994-95.

The United Kingdom and New Zealand are the main markets for South Australian and Australian wine.

Online, all the time . . .

You'll never be without vital information again. PC AUSSTATS will let you access the information you need, when you need it — 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

You can connect to the ABS database and find the information you want, simply and quickly. And once you've selected the information, downloading to your PC is done for you by the PC AUSSTATS software.

Ready to go . . .

Once downloaded, the data is in .wks format — compatible with all the most common spreadsheet packages available today — so it's ready for instant analysis and manipulation on your own PC.

And with thousands of series covering the most important economic and social data, it's like having your own private ABS library — with librarian.

With the latest information . . .

By using PC AUSSTATS, you will know that you have the latest information available.

The main PC AUSSTATS database is updated daily, giving you full access to the latest facts and figures about the nation.

Plus, you don't have to worry about revisions or corrections to the data — the PC AUSSTATS database is updated in line with any revisions to our printed publications.

. . . and a historical perspective

The database that you access with PC AUSSTATS gives you time series data.

So you get not only the latest information, but also a historical perspective — and this gives you the base you need to perform your own trend analysis.

Historical information is typically available for a 15 year period for all series on PC AUSSTATS — and this includes monthly, quarterly, half yearly and yearly series.
